Mid-sized opportunities big on potential

Today's emerging businesses have the potential to become the market leaders of tomorrow, offering you an opportunity to participate in their growth. As India's economy creates more and more opportunities for business expansion, mid-cap companies are building capabilities, foraying into new markets and responding ever-faster to customer needs.

Here's why you need Mid-cap Funds in your portfolio

- Meet your long-term financial goals
- Gain exposure to growth potential of mid-sized businesses
- Midcaps offer business with varied growth drivers, competitive strengths and valuations
- Diversify your equity investments across companies and sectors

Who should invest in Mid-cap funds?

- Investors with higher risk appetite since mid-caps are subject to market risks and can experience higher volatility
- Ideal for investors with a long-term investment horizon
- Investors who are comfortable with equity market fluctuations
