Go global for responsible investing

Today, most of us would prefer to buy products and use services of the multinational companies from across the globe that are socially and environmentally responsible.

These companies work towards the betterment of the climate thereby leaving lesser carbon foot print for a greener and cleaner tomorrow.

Then why not invest in such responsible businesses?

There are a lot of innovative and niche businesses that offer opportunities to investors to look beyond the geographical boundaries when it comes to responsible investing.

For example, themes like electric vehicles, robotic automations, renewable energy, ESG, climate change funds, aerospace engineering, ecommerce, digital transformation and IoT (Internet of Things) are some of the few business which are listed domestically for investors.

Thus investors who wish to invest responsibly in such themes need to invest in businesses that are listed globally to diversify!

Diversification in today's globalised world is a need of the hour as it is a way to -

Take exposure to themes and innovative businesses from across the globe

Reduce dependency of a single economy and country on your portfolio

Reduce overall portfolio risk

Create long term wealth without any geographical boundaries

Let's invest responsibly in such global and sustainable businesses to make a difference to this world!
