HSBC Arbitrage Fund philosophy

- To enters into simultaneous transactions of a long position in cash and exactly off-setting short position in futures.
- Towards the expiry or before the expiry of the derivatives contract, the positions are reversed or rolled over.

Why HSBC Arbitrage Fund?

- Investment predominantly in arbitrage opportunities in the cash and derivatives segments of the equity markets; and debt and money market instruments
- Aim to provide reasonable liquidity and risk adjusted performance to suit the investor's requirements
- Maintains optimum allocation across arbitrage instruments
- Aims to generate opportunity of reasonable returns over short to medium term

Market Actions

The average roll spreads captured this month was 7.57% annualized. Allocation towards hedged equities is at 76.91 with a tilt towards Midcap. No duration or credit risk is taken on the debt side and that will pull down the final returns a bit.

- The start of August expiry saw rollover basis to start at 64-65 bps going down to 60-61 bps levels with very low participation. Start of the rollover week, roll levels touched 58-59 bps with low volume participation by short rollers. On expiry day rolls dropped to 54-55 bps levels with certain stocks at even lower levels of 43-45 bps. For the third consecutive month, we saw rolls levels remained under pressure all through the expiry period.
- Nifty increased 0.8% in August 2024 (MTD), in July 2024 the index had gained 3.9%.
- Stress and volatility in the global markets due to the unwinding of the carry trade as YEN rose against the USD, pulled down the benchmark index NIFTY50 around 4% at the start of the month. In the second half of the month though markets recovered.
- July CPI inflation at 3.54% YoY (est. 3.60%) was lower than June (5.08% YoY), mainly due to an extremely favorable base effect, with this being reflected in food inflation as well (5.4% YoY vs 9.4% in June 2024). However, on a sequential basis, headline inflation rose 1.4% – the highest increase in a year. Current elevated markets levels warrant caution going into the next series.
- FIIs have been net sellers this month, selling equities to the tune of $0.5 billion (MTD) as compared to $3.4 billion of buying previous month. Year to date, FIIs have bought equities close to $3.2 billion.
- AUM of Arbitrage Funds increased compared to the previous expiry (Rs 2,25,961 crores vs Rs 2,22,829 crores). This month average roll basis was lower than previous expiry, 58 bps vs 71.75 bps previous month.

Global Markets

- Global equity markets have been positive this month as the US Fed chairman in his speech said the time has come to cut its key policy rate, making clear his intention to prevent further cooling in the labour market.
- In the US, CPI for the month of July 2024 dropped below 3% (at 2.9%) for the first time in three and a half years, in June 2024 the inflation print read 3% (YoY). The easing inflation and weakening job market led the Fed chair to make a dovish statement.
- In the UK, CPI increased for the first time this year, to 2.2% in July 2024 Vs 2% in June 2024 thereby boosting rate cut expectations, the central bank expects CPI to rise to 2.75% by the end of the year before returning to 2% in the first half of 2026.
- In the US, two out of the three major indices (S&P500 & Dow Jones) are trading positive this month – with S&P500 having increased the most MTD, by 1.3%. US10YR decreased from 4% (July 2024) to 3.8%.
- US Dollar Index decreased from 104.1 in July 2024 to 101.
- Crude decreased from $80.7/bbl to $78/bbl, it had declined to as low as $76/bbl eventually re-bounding on the back of geopolitical risk in the Middle East and a production halt in Libya.
